Plowing Contest Shapes Up As A "Duel Of Champions"

Next Tuesday's contour plowing contest on the Isaac Geib farm at Manheim R3 is shaping into a king-sized affair with a new entry this week swelling the contestant total to eight, according to Lancaster County Soil & Water Conservation District associate director Forney Longenecker

Richard Groff, Lititz R3, the last of the level-land champions, has now tossed his hat into the ring This will be the first competitive plowing on the contour for Groff, but he will be in there challenging last year's champion Marvin Zimmerman from R1 East Earl Groff was the big winner in 1963 and 1964, the last years the District sponsored the level-land event He retained permanent possession of the rotating trophy when the event was discontinued in favor of contouring

In addition to Zimmerman and Groff, entries now include Loren Zimmerman, East Earl R1, John Campbell, Sr, New

Survey Of Custom Farm Machinery Work & Rates Finds Both Increase

It may cost you slightly more this year to get your grain combined or your crops sprayed, according to a survey of custom rates in the state released this week by the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service

Although the agency found rates for custom work were up, it added that increases were generally less than five percent, with only a few in excess of ten percent

Custom hiring of machinery on the farm appears to be increasing in the nation as a whole, a U S Department of Agriculture report showed USDA found that 28 percent of the 153 million acres of grain harvested in 1964 was machine combined on a custom, or exchange basis Twenty-eight percent of all the hay in the U.S. was custom baled, and 27 percent of the silage, the report continued

The hauling of farm products also relied heavily on custom or exchange trucks with 52 percent of the tonnage moved off of farms in 1964 so handled, USDA said The report showed that the four machines most often rented were tractors, trucks, fertilizer distributors, and sprayers

In breaking down the rates for custom work in Pennsylvania, the Crop Reporting Service showed a separate schedule for the south central and southeastern valley areas versus the mountain sections in the rest of the state The valley regions generally had slightly lower charges for most custom services

Dairymen Meet At ABC To View Parade Of County's Top Bulls

Lancaster County dairymen and their families turned out in force Tuesday evening for the Atlantic Breeders Cooperative "Twilight Meeting" despite a thunder storm threat which never quite materialized into real rain in the bone dry Lancaster area

Highlighting the program was a parade of some of ABC's top bulls in the Jersey, Guernsey, and Holstein breeds Harry Roth, sire analyst and ABC assistant manager, described the attributes and breeding of each outstanding sire as he was led by Roth was assisted by comments, both solicited and unsolicited, from ABC's "Chairman of the Board" Cy R King (shown in photo with Area Dairy Princess Carol Ann Hess)

A brief flutter of excitement prevailed as the last bull came through the line. He took one look at the crowd of some 400 people out there and decided it was no place for him Shaking off his handlers, he dashed down the chute and headed for his stall Handlers in the barn quickly brought him under control, but he was in no way inclined to return to the stage

In introducing the bull show, master of ceremonies Roger Emig,, reminded dairy families of the upcoming "Atlantic on Parade" program set for August 4th at the Route 230 By-Pass location A chicken barbecue will be served from 11 a m to 1 p m, Emig said, with tickets costing $1

In kicking off the bull height and weight judging contest, Emig told the audience

From Where We Stand . . .

To Want Is To Have

The Vice President of the United States of America this week pretty well summed up what is basically wrong with the whole Great Society concept. And could the truth come from a better horse's mouth than his — save one?

Hubert Horatio Humphrey reportedly told a conference of the National Assn. of Counties, meeting in New Orleans, that the day is past when rich kids can have swimming pools and poor kids cannot!

He condoned the riots that have racked our cities in recent weeks, and wrote them off as rightful protests of wrongful living conditions. Humphrey told the county officials that there were only two alternatives to this continuing city violence: 1 - federal ownership of low-rent housing; or, 2 - subsidization of the poor so they can own their own homes.

Nowhere in his speech did he differentiate between the right to HAVE and the right to EARN. And this attitude, as we see it, is what's essentially wrong with the Great Society philosophy. In effect, it says "To want is to have". Anyone who has a need or a want has a RIGHT to have that need or want fulfilled — preferably by the federal government.

We see little difference between this philosophy of the Great Society, and the socialist philosophy of "To each according to his needs".

Whatever happened to the old concept of "the right to opportunity"? Remember, way back in the history books when the whole world once called America "that Golden Land of Opportunity"? People migrated here from all over creation because here they had the right to climb to the stars if their talent and determination so indicated.

And, you know, that philosophy was so successful over the years that it made America the richest and most influential of all the countries of the world Of course, it also made possible, unfortunately, the Great Society concept as we know it today. How? By creating the national wealth and government stability needed to support the dole system for those who lacked either the inclination or the talent for availing themselves of their right of opportunity.

Humphrey expressed concern over the rats in the tenements and the garbage in the streets. Certainly these are things to be concerned about. It is with his suggested solution that we violently disagree. Slum clearance is a matter the federal government should push, but it is a matter for individual communities with blighted areas to execute. And it is a matter of helping slum dwellers to help themselves — with emphasis on the self-help! Show them, especially the young, that there is something better to life than what they have; and teach them to want this better way of life; give them the opportunity to earn what they want and then get out of the way and let them get it! This is a far more sound an approach, we feel, than building a lot of federally-subsidized housing and keeping these people as pets, or wards, of the state.

Rats over the centuries have always found toes to nibble on, Mr. Humphrey. But toes that are busy working make poor targets. And toes with owners who aren't afraid to work to rise above their born-in-poverty environment can do more to eliminate toe-nibbling by rats, or anyone else, than all the federal subsidies for all the time that is, was, or ever will be.

Congratulations Carol!

Carol Hess, that is, since we see the new Pennsylvania Dairy Princess is also named Carol — Carol Stephens from Cambria County.

Our Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hess, Jr., Strasburg R1, came within one place of being the State Princess, when she was chosen runner-up Thursday at the Dairy Princess Pageant at York. How close can you come?

And certainly out of a field of 102 entries that's nothing short of terrific! So congratulations, Carol And our heartiest thanks for carrying Lancaster County's banner to such heights. We kinda had a feeling you'd do well in the state competition, and you sure did!

Profanity of Deeds

Lesson For July 24, 1966

Background Scripture Exodus 20 7 Matthew 5 33-37 6 5 15 Mark 7 5 9 Titus 1 16
Devotional Reading Isaiah 40 12 14 18 23.

During the construction of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, Sir Christopher Wren, its famous architect, posted a notice in various places on the construction site:

"Whereas among the laborers and others that ungodly custom of swearing is so frequently heard to the dishonor of God and to the contempt of his authority, and to the end that such impiety may utterly be banished within these works which are intended to the service of God and the honor of religion, it is ordered that profane swearing shall be a sufficient crime to discharge any laborer that comes to the call."

Rev. Althouse

To Wren it was incongruous to have profanity uttered in a structure that would eventually be used to glorify God. The ruling was vigorously enforced so that this abuse might be utterly stamped out. God should not be insulted within his own house.

"You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain; for the LORD will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain". (Exodus 20:7 RSV) Isn't God being a bit touchy here? Why all this fuss over his name? Doesn't he realize that "sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me"?

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The ancients, particularly the Hebrews, attatched great significance to one's name The name of a person and his personality were inseparably linked together. In the Bible we find that often when a man's character was changed, his name was changed also. Abram became Abraham, Jacob became Israel, Saul became Paul. If you dishonored a man's name you dishonored the whole person.

It was also believed that the name carried with it the power of the gods and spirits. To pronounce the name of the deity was to invoke his presence and set him into motion. Thus Christians still pray "in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord." Some people used the name of the Hebrew God to perform magical rites for their own benefit. This was a common practice for pagans.

The Third Commandment is intended to teach the people of Israel that God's name and the Being it represents is intended for praise, not for manipulation or for cursing. We are not to use his name in any way that would bring dishonor upon God, nor are we to speak or use that name without sincerity.

BEYOND MERE WORDS

Profanity, however, does not end with words. The writer of Titus says it simply: "They profess to know God, but they deny him by their deeds." What we do speaks louder than what we say. There is a profanation of the name of God whenever we profess to serve God and then live as if we believed he did not exist.

There was an irony in Sir Christopher Wren's pronouncement against profane speech. He acted boldly to eliminate profanity from this sacred site, yet something else happened that proved to be an even greater offense to God. Through lack of vigilance—perhaps that of the architect himself—someone was permitted to build the great pillars of the cathedral in such an inferior manner that today the structure is in danger of eventual collapse. The pillars appear to be very strong, but the materials inside them are very inferior. When I visited the cathedral a number of years ago the famous "whispering gallery was closed off as unsafe, a stark example that there may be both a profanity of speech and a profanity of deeds.

Today there are many who are saying that man has outgrown his need for God. Of those who are replying adamantly with their lips, "Not true! not true!" there are some who by the profanity of their deeds are also saying "Amen. God is dead!" "Why do you call me 'Lord, Lord,' and do not what I tell you?"

Farm Safety Week Focuses On Major Causes Of Farm Accidents

by Everett Newswanger, Staff Reporter

Teenagers, age 15-19, accounted for the largest number of U. S fatal farm accidents during 1964, according to the latest figures released by the United States Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council Of the 276 deaths in this age group 89 resulted from drownings This was the highest figure in any age category

Second high age group for fatal accidents was the 10-14 year old group with 217

There were three other single listings that had 80 or more deaths: (machinery) age group 55-59 had 83; (machinery) age group 60-64 had 81; and (machinery) age group 65-69 had 80

These statistics are about the same every year They are only figures. But each one represents another human life—a man, woman, husband, wife, mother, father, son, or daughter, dear to his or her family.

Over-all accidents and their causes are as follows Machinery 875, Drownings 361, Firearms 238, Falls 135, Blows from falling or projected objects 160, Animals or insects 87, Burns from fire and hot substances 118; Electric Current 88, Poisonings 31; Lightning 36 and all others 149. Complete total — 2,278

Accidents don't just happen, they are caused, and thus can be prevented. The 23rd National Farm Safety Week will be held again this year from July 24-30 to call attention to farm and home safety.

This week, and every week, action must be taken to stop this needless, useless loss of life. If an accident can happen, it will happen.

Source of statistics for this report were from "Deaths from nontransport on farms, 1964," National Vital Statistics Division, Public Health Service.

To Water Well

To do plants, shrubs, or crops any good you must apply sufficient water to soak down into the root zone of the particular plant; this will vary from a few inches to several feet deep, in case of trees and shrubs. A summer shower provides very little moisture to most plants because it is of short duration and runs off quickly, a steady rain of several hours length permits time to soak into the soil Frequent shallow watering might actually do more harm than good; in addition to using water without benefit, it will encourage shallow roots and a weaker plant

To Recognize Change in Gas Tax Refund

Farmers are entitled to the 7¢ state gasoline tax refund on gas used for agriculture. Forms for this requested refund are available from the Board of Finance and Revenue, Harrisburg. Request deadline is September 30, 1966. For the 4¢ per gallon Federal tax refund there has been a change in procedure; farmers are not to request this refund until they file their 1966 Income Tax report next winter. It is no longer necessary to file a special claim for this tax refund. The amount due will be claimed as a credit on income tax liability.

To Seed Redcoat Wheat

Farmers who are interested in using Redcoat wheat as a fall and early spring pasture can be getting the ground ready for an early August seeding. Since Redcoat is resistant to Hessian fly infestation, it may be seeded late summer and early fall and used for livestock grazing; we suggest seeding at 3 bushel per acre when to be grazed; a complete fertilizer such as a 10-10-10 at 300 to 400 pounds per acre should be drilled in deeply prior to the seeding operation.

These usually are conducted in the morning and field trips to points of educational interest in the Washington area are conducted during the afternoon of each day.

The four delegates from Lancaster County will be reporting to their local clubs and also will be utilized in County-wide 4-H programs concerning their Citizenship experience, when they return.

critter somewhat more running room than last year's loser enjoyed.

It was decided by the SWCD directors that any boy who wins a pig chase can not enter the following year's event If he is not too old by the third year, he may reenter.

This means that last year's pig catcher, Eugene Bollinger of Denver R2, will be ineligible to compete. Bollinger probably set some kind of record last year when he had the shoat hog-tied and back to the finish line within 1½ minutes!

Anybody want to break that record? Even if he doesn't break it, the winner still gets a good, 50-pound gilt, and the losers have some fun competing for this choice prize. The pig will be donated by Eby's Feed Mill, Lititz, again this year. Remember the time —right after the plowing contest, which starts at 1 p.m. The place will be the Homer Graybill farm at Manheim R3. In case of heavy rain on Tuesday, come by Thursday.

E'Town FFA'ers Heading West

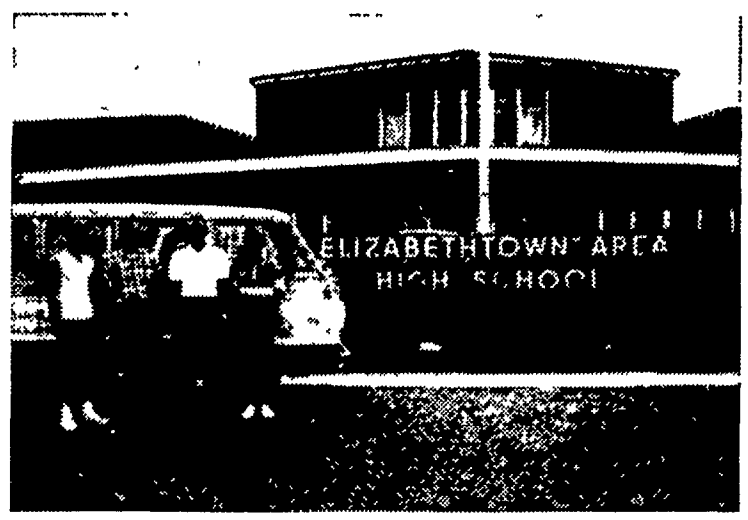
Three members of the Elizabethtown Future Farmers of America Chapter departed the county Wednesday for western parts of the U.S.A. They will spend about four weeks touring that part of the country and visiting other FFA members and high school vo-ag departments.

The trio, all graduates of Elizabethtown High School, are: Barry Kurtz, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kurtz, 1160 N. Market St; Donald Gruber, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Menno Gruber of Bainbridge R1; and John Cramer, 18, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hill, E'Town R1.

Accompanying the boys is an honorary FFA chapter member, Kenneth Umbenhauer, an E'Town Junior High School social studies teacher.

This will be the third group from the E'Town Chapter to make this trek west. The purpose of the trip is to reward the boys who have contributed to the chapter FFA project.

Gruber has served as both chapter and county FFA treasurer, and Kurtz served two years as chapter secretary Gruber and Kurtz received their Keystone Degrees in January.



SADDLE UP, WE'RE HEADIN' WEST — Three E'Town Future Farmers and an advisor preparing to depart Wednesday for the west coast for a four-week tour. Left to right they are Barry Kurtz, Donald Gruber; Kenneth Umbenhauer, advisor, and John Cramer.

Here are some of the seed varieties Agway seedsmen have selected as extra-profit varieties for 1967:

PENNRAD BARLEY

High yielding and winter hardy. Resistant to powdery mildew and scald. Awnless kernel. Stiff straw.

BALBO RYE

An early-maturing high yielder. Use for pasture or cover crop.

REDCOAT WHEAT

The highest-yielding red wheat. Resistant to Hessian fly and some stem and leaf rusts. Is susceptible to dwarf bunt and loose smut. Awnless kernel. Medium-short, very strong straw.

HUDSON BARLEY

High yielding, winter hardy. Scald resistant. Good bushel weight. Stiff, medium-height straw.

CATSKILL BARLEY

Superior to Wong in yield, winter hardiness, lodging resistance and test weight of grain. Awnless for easy combining.

BESBAR BARLEY

High yielding with good winter hardiness. Resistant to scald. Awnless. Stiff, medium-height straw.

Pigs go for the tasty new Tail Curler Rockets. (3 to 1 over a creep feed formerly considered very palatable.) They get top nutrition from choice ingredients, carefully balanced and fortified to meet the critical needs of baby pigs.

Tail Curler Rockets contain Complex 65, Wayne's Aureomycin, Sulmet and Penicillin combination that gives the difference you can see!

If you don't care to early wean, Tail Curler Rockets will pay off as a pre-starter.

Remember every pound of creep ration eaten means a pound heavier pig at weaning, and a head start that lasts all the way to market.

Thrifty But Nutritious Meals

Everybody likes to be thrifty and to serve good nutritious meals. Here are some recipes to make this task easier, using split peas and lentils while they are plentiful and inexpensive. Some of these recipes can be cooked in quantity and frozen for later use. There are many times when you'll find it quite convenient to have a prepared casserole in the freezer, all ready to pop in the oven and heat.

LENTIL AND CABBAGE SOUP

2 medium-sized carrots, sliced
¼ cup chopped celery
1 small onion, chopped
3 cups meat stock
2 cups cooked dry beans or lentils
1 cup finely chopped cabbage
Salt, pepper, garlic salt

Cook carrots, celery and onion in stock until almost tender — about 15 minutes. Add beans or lentils and cabbage; cook 5 minutes more. Season. Makes 4 servings.

* * * *

SPLIT PEA OR LENTIL SOUP

1 cup dry split peas or lentils.
4 cups boiling water
Ham bone and salt and pepper to taste
1 small onion, chopped

Add peas or lentils to water with ham bone and onion. Boil gently about 2 hours — until the consistency desired for soup. Remove ham bone. Press lentils through a course sieve to remove skins. Chop meat from bone and return it to the soup. Season and reheat. Makes 4 servings.

1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers
¾ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
Garlic salt
4 strips bacon

The noon meal consisted of charcoal broiled steak prepared by Robert E. Gregory and Harold S. Stuber, with the rest of the meal brought by members and served cafeteria style.

A short business meeting was conducted by president Mrs. William B Eberly. Members were urged to attend a picnic of all County Societies, August 2, at Long Park.

The next regular meeting will be held August 20 at the home of Mrs. Adam Kopp, Reinholds R1.

To remove grease and tar stains . . .

Remove excess grease with dull knife. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Wash with synthetic detergent.

To remove milk, cream, or ice cream stains . . .

Waitress Wins Dairy Association County "Miss Hospitality" Title

Mrs. Hilda Eisenberger, Paradise R1, a waitress at Miller's Smorgasbord, has been chosen "Miss Hospitality" of Lancaster County She will compete at the regional restaurant exposition in October for the state title and a trip to Copenhagen, Denmark.

The contest, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Milk Dealers Association, the American Dairy Association, and the

Hilda Eisenberger

Pennsylvania Restaurant Association, was held all during May with 10 Lancaster County restaurants cooperating

The idea was to find waitresses with the best combination of those characteristics which help make dining out an enjoyable experience, placing emphasis on good grooming, a pleasant personality, and sales ability The challenge to their sales ability was the sale of a glass of milk to their customers

Customers voted for their choice of waitress The waitresses in each restaurant had an opportunity to select from among themselves their choice for the title, and management had an opportunity to rate their waitresses With this information added to its own observations, the committee selected the winner.

First runnerup to "Miss Hospitality" was Dorothy Moser, Manor Plaza; second runnerup, Geraldine Graham, The Willows.

Horace Mann is the father of the American public school system

Weather Forecast

The weatherman promises us more of these cool, comfortable conditions for the next five days, with temperatures expected to average below the normal range of 87 to 66 degrees.

Unfortunately, no major rain system is in sight, but there is a chance of ¼-½ inch of the precious stuff at the beginning of the week.

COWS ON PASTURE NEED MINERALS!

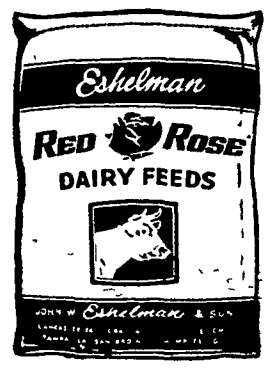
RED ROSE

FREE — CHOICE MINERAL

PROVIDES A COMPLETE RANGE OF MINERALS IN BALANCED AMOUNTS.

The roughages and farm grains that your grazing cows eat do not supply the minerals that are essential to the good health, growth and performance of your herd. IT'S IMPORTANT that these minerals be furnished by supplementary feeding!

PHOSPHORUS is the mineral most likely to be missing in the ordinary diet of cows—COPPER is necessary for blood formation—COBALT is needed for rumen function —CALCIUM is required for bone and teeth development —IRON forms good blood—SALT is needed for proper body functioning and proper digestion—MANGANESE —ZINC—and IODINE are required also All of these minerals are included in Red Rose Free-Choice Mineral. Only a small amount of mineral is needed for your cows (¼ to 1 lb per week) Fill your mineral feeders with Red Rose Free-Choice Mineral and place them near the hay racks or water troughs If you do, your cows will be protected against mineral deficiency, and at the same time assured good herd health—and will perform better in the milk line



RED ROSE DAIRY FEEDS fed with good hay and pasture is the ideal diet for your herd. They're available in many protein levels to suit the roughage you have on your farm. Try them —and see the results in the milk pail where it counts most! Try them—and you'll use them always.
